

Thank you for leaving me your tooth!

Oh, I see you lost another tooth, but don't be sad. That just means another new tooth is ready to take its place.

Are you enjoying your summer? I love summertime! The sun is shining, the flowers are all blooming. My garden here in FairyLand is lush and full, the flowers all swaying in the breeze. It smells so good here! You should see all the colors: reds and pinks, yellows and oranges, blues and greens. Even white. Every color you can imagine is found here in my garden. And I have you to thank for it! Every time you lose a tooth, I plant that tooth, and it grows here in my garden. Of course, the garden is magic, just like fairies. I think it has to do with all the children of the world believing so hard in me. It warms me through, like the summer sun.

Are you swimming this summer? We fairies can't swim the way you can, because we can't get our fairy wings too wet, or we wouldn't be able to fly. But we like to dip our feet in puddles sometimes. They have to be very small puddles, though, on a petal of a flower. We fairies are very tiny. So tiny you can't see us. But sometimes we catch a ride on a raindrop as it falls to the ground, or take a quick dip as a raindrop clings to a blade of grass. Sometimes even a fairy needs to cool off in the summer heat!

But even though it's summer, and that means vacation time, don't forget to brush your teeth every day, and floss, too. It's very important to take care of your teeth. Enjoy the lovely weather, and know that I think of you often. You make me feel warm all the way through!

Love,

The Tooth Fairy
