

Happy Valentine's Day!

To my sweetie,

Happy Valentine's Day.

For all the silly things you do, I love you more each day. The spills, the tears, the toys I stumble over on my way out the door only remind me how full my life is because of you. Even before I met you, Cupid had touched my heart with his arrow. You are the delightful treat that sweetens my day; you are the sun nestled amongst the clouds. When you laugh, my heart fills with joy. You are so lovable! Even at your most devilish, you are--and always will be--my little angel.

The day you came into the world was the best day of my life, or so I thought. But every day with you is Heaven, sweetie. Better than chocolate or flowers, the time I spend with you is the best gift I could ever get. I love you more than the moon and the stars and the sun up in the sky. I love you deeper than the sea. A love that grows stronger every day. You are my blessing from above, my heart, my soul.

On this Valentine's Day, I wish for you all the love the world can offer. I wish for all your dreams to come true. Because you are my dream come true.

Have the happiest, sweetest Valentine's Day ever! Hugs and Kisses, and Chocolate Wishes,

XOXOXOXO
