

Happy Valentine's Day!

To My Friend,

On this Valentine's Day, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for being such a good friend. Chocolates, flowers, and gems can't compare to the joy a dear friend lends to a life. Your support through all of life's up and downs has meant the world to me and I could not have gotten through it all without your love and support.

You understand the true meaning of friendship, which is to love unconditionally. It is such a comfort to know there is someone in the world--you--who accept me just as I am, flaws and all.

When the world is unkind, as it is sometimes, I rest in the knowledge you have my back, and I in turn have yours. Your gracious way of giving makes me strive to be a better friend myself. When I need you, you are there. Through good times and bad. Through tears and ice cream, and triumphs and ribbons, you have been there to cheer me on. I promise to do my best to be as good a friend to you as you have been to me.

Have a very Happy Valentine's Day, and know that you are loved and appreciated.

Hugs,
